St. Petersburg Despatches Say Assault Was Made on Stronghold by Land and Sea on June 6 and Enemy Lost Four Ships and 3,500 Men.

LONDON, June 9.—Despatches from Cheefoo say the Japanese fleet is bombarding Port Arthur daily from a considerable distance off shore, fearing to attempt a closer range of fire on account of danger from Russian

The Russians have several fortified positions between the present positions, extended for a distance of seven miles out. The latest report indicates that the fleet has not done much damage.

The Japanese Army, too, the Cheefoo reports say, had not made much progress of late in its advance on Port Arthur. It is reported here that the advance has been successfully checked

The Japanese have not effected a landing at Kaichow. Their fleet of twenty-five steam transports, loaded with war material and provisions, which was lying off Kaichow, has disappeared. Stores for the Japanese army are arriving at Kinchow from all directions. The disappearance of these transports has given rise to the report that they have been sunk by the Russians. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard telegraphs:

"Announcement is made to-day by the correspondent of the Russkoe Slavo at Liaoyang—and it is copied by all the telegraphic news-sheets sold in the streets—that twenty-five Japanese transport steamers have been sunk off Kaichow. Liaotung peninsula, together with war supplies and ammunition."

This rumor is entirely unconfirmed. In spite of the reports that the Japanese have met with reverses and are short of powder, there come other despatches which declare that the fall of Port Arthur seems imminent. One telegram, which predicts the fall of the city, was received from Yinkow by way of Rome. The telegram adds:

Marshal Navlor and his squad can ared George Friedley to-day near Canon City and returned with him to Victor. He is charged with having killed Roxid McGee in Victor Monday and with hav ing attempted to shoot C. C. Hamlin ceretary of the Mine Owners' Associa ion, when he was addressing the meet ng in Victor last Monday.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., June 9.-After a night of intense excitement, due to the battle between troops and strikers at Dunnville, a small skirmish on Big Bull Hill and the wrecking of the Victor Record office, matters hav quieted down in this military district

A question of jurisdiction may arise over the Dunnville battle. The fight took place in Fremont County, and John Cariey, who was killed, was brought to Teller. Dunnville is located fourteen miles south of Victor, a show fourteen miles south of Victor, a short distance beyond the border of Teller County, which alone has been decided the Governor to be in a state of insurrection and rebellion.

Adjt.-Gen. Sherman M. Bell's right to send troops out of the territory which is under martial law is disputed, but he claims authority to do this under a paragraph of the orders calling out It is considered remarkable that only one man was killed in the Dunnville battle. The contesting forces were about 200 soldiers and deputies under personal command of Gen. Bell and sixty-five miners who were secreted berounding the new mining camp. The attacking party left its train and walked through a narrow canyon into Dunnville is located, and was subjected to a hall of bullets from the rocks high above. Probably 2,000 shots were fired by both sides, yet the only man hit so far as known was John Carley, who was in the timber, and was siam by a steel bullet from the rifle of a man in the nring squad of Sergt. Bald-win.

In a moment he jumped down and swung himself up on the right of the cab alongside the driver, to whom he spoke. The driver put win.

Bope Around His Neck.

Gen Bell was informed that men wanted for participation in the rioting at Victor were at Dunnville, at it he made the raid for the purpose of capturing them. In the party that went to Dunnville was Charles M. MacNeill, of the United States Reduction and Refining Company. The company's refusal to grant its mill men an eight-hour day caused the Crippie Creek miners' strike, MacNeill was armed with a magazine revolver which he fired frequently, but apparently without bitting anybody. One of the chases in the general manhunt the military is conducting ended in the capture of C. C. Friedley at the Thompson ranch.

The three Friedley brothers, miners, had gone southward, and as one of them was suspected of having fired the shot that killed Roxie McGee in the riot Macday, the military gave chase. C. C. Friedley at first refused to talk, but the soldlers placed a rope about his neck and he then told which way his brothers and another man had gone.

Two detectives and a man they had in tow were in a saloon at Walker street and West Broadway yesterday making strenuous efforts to build up some project which they would not explain. More evidence to support the statement of Algernon Meyer that th shooting happened near Walker street and not at Franklin street, as the police have alleged, was discovered by The Evening World this afternoon. William Haskins is another man who heard the pistol shot, although he did

Haskins is a driver, a member of Union No. 408. His home is at No. 410 West Seventeenth street. Last Saturday morning he went to Leggett's grocery house at West Broadway and Franklin street, to apply for a job. It was shortly before ? o'clock He was standing on the loading plat-

In a moment he jumped down and swung himself up on the rear step of the cab alongside the driver, to whom he spoke. The driver pulled up his horse and opened the trap door on the top of the cab. Haskins says that a little puff of blue smoke came out. A policeman ran out into the street and the driver moved slowly down to Franklin street, where he stopped his horse close to the curb. Haskins says he saw the policeman enter the cab and come out with the revolver. Being anxious about his needed job he did not pursue the matter further.

In the main this story agrees with that of Meyer, who says that the shooting occurred just below Walker street. Meyer is a stranger in New York and had never been on West Broadway before. He knew nothing of White street, and naturally associated the shooting with the nearest cross street he had knowledge of-which was Walker street. Haskins's story is additional confirmation of the important detail related by Meyer that a man ran out from the curb and got up on the cab while it was moving.
